VOLUME 37, No. 7

Warren And All Republican Candidates Are Given
Good Majorities HereHinshaw's Lead About 5,000—Vote On Ballot
Proposals Emphatic

Sierra Madre contributed a majority of 595 votes toward Earl Warren's smashing victory in the gubernatorial contest at Tuesday's election and gave all the other Republican candidates majorities over their Democratic opponents.

Congressman Carl Hinshaw carried the city by a majority of 131 and Assemblyman T. Fenton Knight reversed the result of the August primary election, having a majority here over Virginia Timberlake Steinberger of 93 and carrying six of the nine precincts. Judge John A. H. Sturgeon won the hotly contested fight for justice of the peace of Monrovia township by a majority of 637 votes, Sierra Madre giving a majority of 43.

Local voters spoke emphatically in passing on the 18 ballot propositions, for and against. They returned a majority of 740 in favor of outlawing hot cargo and secondary boycotts and defeated the Basic Science proposal, No. 3 on the ballot, by a majority of 483. Closest vote was on repeal of the State income tax which carried here by the narrow margin of 43 votes. Indicating that they do not rate Assemblymen too highly, a majority of 341 Sierra Madrans voted against increasing salaries of the lawmakers from $100 to $200 a month, notwithstanding the present salaries cannot begin to pay Assemblymen's expenses while the legislature is in session.

A total of 1915 votes were cast here, somewhat less than a thousand persons whose names appeared on the registration lists failing to go to the polls, Harry Riley, State controller, received the highest vote, 1637, though he was practically unopposed.

Governor-elect Warren carried every district here and polled 1240 votes as against 645 for the defeated Gov. Olson. Senator Robert W. Kenny, attorney general-elect, fared slightly better than other Democratic candidates for State offices, losing the city by only 194 votes in favor of Wallace L. Ware.

With all but 104 of the 744 precincts of the 20th Congressional District tabulated last night Congressman Carl Hinshaw was leading Donovan, his Democratic opponent, by a majority of 4,988 votes. The unreported precincts were in the hinterland where it was believed Donovan would run strongest, but as they began to filter in they made no substantial change in the majority. The district extends from Sierra Madre around the mountains into the San Fernando and Antelope valleys and includes Pasadena, Burbank, Glendale, Van Nuys, San Marino and Mojave. Hinshaw lost only Burbank on face of the returns. He carried seven out of Sierra Madre's nine precincts.

This area voted heavily in favor of Proposition No. 1, practically every city hereabouts approving it. Pasadena led the van with a majority in its favor of about 11,000.

Bill Schwartz Will Join U.S. Engineers

William Schwartz who recently resigned his position as assistant city engineer to accept an engineering job with the government, passed through here this week for an unknown destination where he is being sent to lay out a new flying field.

Schwartz has made application for enlistment in the Army Engineer Corps and if accepted will apply for foreign service.

SECOND SALVAGE CAMPAIGN OF LOCAL SCHOOLS NETS 14 MORE TONS OF SCRAP METAL

Parents Haul Junk Spotted By Enthusiastic Youngsters To Scrap Heaps

Continuing their splendid job of "getting in the scrap," children of the grammar and St. Rita's schools brought in a combined total of approximately 14 tons more of badly-needed junk in their second salvage drive during the week ending Saturday.

While the first campaign succeeded in rounding up a greater tonnage of scrap (19 tons), authorities at both schools were very much pleased by the fact

Two Injured
In Air Raid
Practice

With over sixty air-raid wardens participating, the bi-monthly practice air raid drill of the local Civilian Defense Corps was held Monday night, and some of the things that happened were not in the manual.

Two volunteer firemen, Joseph Hutak and J. Milton Steinberger, received minor injuries when a high-pressure hose they were using flung them to the ground. Both were able to about the next day, but they became the first casualties who were not "playing possum."

For the first time the newly-equipped casualty station at the grammar school was used. Stretcher bearer units went about in ambulances, removing the "seriously injured" to blacked-out casualty stations where doctors and nurses were waiting. Here "emergency operations" were performed and "injuries" dressed.

The operator at the control board, keystone of the entire defense set-up, reported that more than 70 calls for first-aid were turned in.

A member of the local Council summed up the practice test: "Yes, there were mistakes. But that's why we are holding these drills—so that we can see our mistakes and then be better able to correct them the next time."

Hallowe'en
Observance
Mystifies

Orderliness Of Pranksters Had Police Department
Bewildered

It was expected that Sierra Madre's first wartime observance of Hallowe'en would be more rational and orderly than it has been of recent years, but it was so utterly tame that the police department was mystified—bewildered.

Property damage was negligible. Not only were there no attempts at palm tree burning, but there were not even any bonfires, such pranks being in direct violation of the Army's dimout regulations and subject to very severe penalties. And there were only two complaints registered on the police blotter, both of a very minor character. Instead of the police station being clogged with youngsters who overstepped the bounds of reason as heretofore, not a one was herded into the bastille Saturday night. Even most of the windows in the shopping district escaped their usual soapings and the police patrol on the downtown streets found little to do for the usual crowds were missing and apparently there were no gangs from Los Angeles, Pasadena and other towns that have been responsible for most of the rowdiness heretofore.

Police Chief McMillan gives parents and teachers much credit for the orderliness of this year's Hallowe'en observance. "It is gratifying to know," he said, "that the children of Sierra Madre are co-operating so splendidly with us during the emergency. To parents and teachers who instructed their charges to abandon the petty vandalism of former years go the sincerest thanks of the police department."

that the new crop of salvage material is heavy metal for the most part and thus of more value to the nation's war industries.

Much of the success of this, the second campaign, came through whole-hearted co-operation of the children's parents, many of whom used their cars and trucks to transport to the schoolyards heavy scrap located by their observant youngsters.

Gerald Smith, grammar school superintendent, announced Monday that the grammar school scrap drive should be discontinued for the present. St. Rita's is continuing.

Better Look Up Your
White Slip Now

If you can't lay your hands quickly on your automobile registration card (white slip), you'd better look it up now; you'll need it when you come to register for a gasoline rationing coupon book. Presentation of the white slip will be necessary. If it has been lost or mislaid better apply at once for a duplicate at any branch office of the California Department of Motor Vehicles, or write the main office at Sacramento. Fee for the duplicate is 50 cents.

If the duplicate does not arrive on time or if the registration card is held in Sacramento pending a transfer of ownership or for any other reason, gasoline coupon books may be obtained by signing an affidavit form, prepared by the rationing authorities stating the registration card is in the hands of the department or giving some other valid excuse why it cannot be immediately produced.

Impressions Of A Woman Grape Picker

(Editor's Note: From Camp Sierra Vista, near Delano, Kern County, Mildred Curtis Bolms, formerly of the staff of the Sierra Madre News, sends this story of the reaction of the scores of women from this and other communities who have felt it their patriotic duty to go into the San Joaquin and other valleys to help save the crops that would otherwise go to waste.)

By Mildred Curtis Bolms

After five weeks of grape-picking at Delano, what is the attitude of the women volunteers toward their work? This question has been asked so often that it behooves us to pause a moment, and give it consideration.

In our unobtrusive rounds with concealed notebook and pencil (for no one likes to be approached with a notebook and pencil, you know) we have had the opportunity of making some searching and interesting discoveries. Here is an insight into the situation:

Three women, attired in their traveling clothes, passed us as we were on our way to "Mother" Caukin's (Mrs. R. O. Caukin, of Sierra Madre) cabin.

"Are you leaving?" we inquired.

"Just for the weekend. We have to see our families, and get some clean clothes. But we will be back next week," came the answer, and with a gay flourish they entered a taxi for Delano.

That night our own two roommates, one of the many delightful mother and daughter pairs at Sierra Vista, said they were also leaving in the morning for their west Los Angeles home to acquire fresh clothing, and clean house.

"Don't throw away that picture over my bed, though, because I want to see it right there when I get back next Friday," warned the girl, with that inscrutable little Mona Lisa smile of hers.

We'll miss this pair very much too, for aside from their extreme gentility, and beautiful devotion to each other, we like to imagine all sorts of stories about the girl, who seems the incarnation of a Medieval painting with her Madonna-parted, raven hair.

Just then strains of "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," floated from an adjacent cabin.

"Oh, that's the Smith girl's radio. Honestly, she brought back enough household furniture to equip an Arctic camp," laughed Mother Caukin, bustling out of her cabin on her way to the commissary.

Yes, the Smith girl, all of 18, had returned from her Pasadena home with enthusiasm and pep undiminished. "Why," she naively confided, "I was so afraid I would not meet any one up here; and I have met more people in five weeks than I met all last winter at home!"

The foregoing is but a fragment of the general opinion held by the majority of the volunteers. They know they have a war to win — without the blare of trumpets — as women have been accustomed to help win wars since the beginning of time. If winning it means gruelling work in the sun for 10 hours a day; if it means casting aside of preconceived ideas and static beliefs; if it means sacrificing some foibles, good looks and picture shows, bridge and friends for a period — well then, they are going to win it in just that way, and no other.

The supreme readjustments being asked everyday are being answered quietly and heroically by Everywoman, everywhere. The Saga of Sierra Vista reveals that fact.

"Don't you think so?" we hollered at Mother Caukin, as she hurried to her cabin for a five-minute talk.

"You know what I think of the women, Mildred; I would not be up here if I did not have unbounded faith in their prowess and ability," she called back.

The American Women's Voluntary Services is recruiting women for this vital work. Day workers are needed now — at once — to pick the lemons which are rapidly ripening. Forty women are needed at La Habra, at good wages. Volunteers will be picked up by a bus in Pasadena at 7 a.m. Experience is not necessary.

Applicants will be interviewed between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at A.W.V.S. headquarters, 1030 East Green street, Pasadena, or may get further information by calling Sycamore 3-8181. Grape and tomato pickers camps at Delano and Reseda need more workers.

Eleven members of the Delphinium Blue Birds enjoyed a cook-out Saturday, at camp Kunkle.

Precaution To Keep Bombs Out Of Air
Mail Liners

Precautions are being taken by the postoffice department to see that bombs don't get aboard the air mail liners under the guise of Christmas packages. A good way to make sure that a gift being sent by air mail will reach its destination is to submit it to the postoffice before completion of the final wrapping, according to Postmaster R. O. Caukin. Packages will not be accepted for transmission by air mail unless there is an endorsement on the face of the package near the address as follows: "Postmaster: This package may be opened for postal inspection if necessary." This must be accompanied by the name of the sender, otherwise it will go as ordinary mail.

Army-Navy Teams
In Grid Battle

St. Mary's Pre-flight Air Devils — the only major team on the Coast (Fresno State not voting) that's undefeated, performs in the Los Angeles Coliseum next Sunday against the Santa Ana Army Air Base Flyers in a game which may decide the service championship in this section. The football game is sponsored by the American Legion and the U.S.O.

Coached by Lt. Commander Gerald "Tex" Oliver, the Air Devils have defeated the College of Pacific; the University of Oregon; the U.C.L.A. Bruins, and the Coast Guard. The Army is a mystery team. They have beaten the Los Angeles Bulldogs, Whittier College, Mather Field, and lost a close early game to the Hollywood Bears. Football experts who have watched the Army prepare for the game insist they will prove a real surprise package for the Navy All-Americans.

Girl Scout Week Observed By Local Troops With Many Activities

Girl Scout Week ended with an enjoyable program at 2 p.m., Saturday, October 31, in the kindergarten room of the grammar school. Miss June Wilcox, senior Scout, was mistress of ceremonies. Brownie troops opened the program with a salute to the flag and all sang "God Bless America," accompanied by Mrs. S. E. Peterson. Troop No. 2 was invested and each girl recited the Scout promise on being presented her pin by Mrs. Steve O'Donnell, leader.

Girls present included Regina Andrews, Anita Annas, Virginia Simmons, Maryanna Haskins, Phyllis Eaton, Sallie James, Sally O'Donnell, Marilyn Simpson, Patricia Marshall, Ann Tremaine and Elsa Seifert.

Troop No. 4 received first aid badges presented by Mrs. Ben Metrick, leader. Girls attending and receiving badges were Joyce Fergus, Lois Wood, Marvel Roberts, Beatrice Metrick, Lillias Dowding and Mary Ann Woehler. Elizabeth Tarr, Senior Scout, gave an interesting talk on Juliette Gordon Low, who founded Girl Scouting in America in 1912. Mrs. Ralph Valencia speaking on the Victory Stamp Drive, stated that if every Girl Scout in America would buy one ten-cent stamp $70,000 would be raised for Child Welfare throughout the world. Traditional Halloween refreshments were enjoyed after the program.

In an impressive flag ceremony at the Junior Woman's Club on October 28, Mrs. James Heasley, Jr., presented Troop 4 with an American flag. Saturday evening the troop was entertained at a costume Halloween dinner party at the home of Mrs. Claude Simpson. Dinner was planned and prepared by the girls.

Members of Troop 1, accompanied by their leader Mrs. R. E. Parmenter, enjoyed dinner in Los Angeles Chinatown, Friday, and later in the evening took a tour of the shops in Olvera street.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 155-millimeter gun is the modern version of the old "GPF" of World War I days. It has a range fifty percent greater than the old gun, heaving a 95-pound projectile approximately 15 miles. It is capable of high road speed and each one costs $50,000.

Arsenals of America are working at terrific speed turning out this long range, effective weapon for our armed forces. You and your neighbor working hand-in-hand in unity can make possible the purchase of an adequate number of these guns by buying War Bonds. Put 10 percent of your income in War Bonds to help reach your county quota, every day.

Legion Post Will March In Armistice Day Pageant

Because so many of its members are absent from the city in defense work, Sierra Madre's American Legion post has decided to join in the big Armistice Day Parade in Pasadena next Wednesday instead of attempting any local observance of the anniversary, according to Commander H. E. Gabriel of the local post.

All the Pasadena, Altadena and posts from other nearby cities will march in the Pasadena parade along with units of various Army outfits from nearby camps. At least one and probably several Army bands will be in the line of march.

Soldiers At Race Track Camp Now

Thousands Of Artillerymen Will Receive Their Training Here

Camp Santa Anita is being rapidly whipped into shape as an Army ordnance training camp. All trace of the recent Japanese population has been removed. Officers and men have been arriving all week, led by Col. Alan H. Means who will be the commanding officer at least until the camp is well established. He arrived over the weekend from Camp San Luis Obispo, which was established under his command in 1940.

It is expected that about 3,000 men, mostly from the artillery command stationed at Aberdeen, Md., will be located here before December 1, and that an equal number will arrive monthly thereafter. Among early arrivals will be approximately 300 officers who will be stationed at the camp permanently as instructors. Each group of trainees will receive about six weeks training and pass on to their assignments, it is reported, making way for others to follow. After the first of the year it is expected the camp will be greatly expanded.

Football Circus To Boost P.T.A. Fund

The eighth annual P.T.A. Football Circus will be held at 2:30 p.m., on Armistice Day, next Wednesday, in the Pasadena Rose Bowl. Each year the local P.T.A. members look forward to this event as a means of raising funds for their child welfare work. Mrs. Gordon Brooks and Mrs. Harold Spaers are in charge of ticket sales and all money received by the sale of tickets here will be kept by the Sierra Madre P.T.A.

Hallowe'en Outfits Win Prizes For School Children

Over 600 celebrants packed the auditorium and cafeteria of the grammar school Friday night for the P.T.A. Hallowe'en carnival where they participated in the best and most hilarious Hallowe'en festival of the week.

Mrs. Wilhelm, R. E. Toms and H. C. Scheuer, master of ceremonies, judged the costume parade. Prizes were awarded Virginia Timmons and Anne Tremaine who with costumes of Cinderella and her page, were chosen as the prettiest; Diane Wilson whose Spanish costume was the funniest; Patricia Marshall, the spookiest; Paul Caron who won the coveted prize of the ugliest; Carolyn Gerke with the most original—a man's nightshirt and corn-cob pipe, and Loren James for making his own Indian costume.

One of the most popular attractions was a professional puppet show sent by the Pasadena Recreation Center. Mrs. Gordon Brooks, chairman of the affair, reports excellent returns from the various booths. Proceeds will go into the P.T.A. budget and a generous contribution to the school library.

O.E.S. Buys Station Wagons And Bonds

If the Sierra Madre Junior Red Cross has anything to do with it more than a hundred service men in Alaska will have a merrier Christmas. Young members of the organization will meet in their home rooms at the school, Friday, to wrap gifts of tooth brushes, razor blades, wash cloths, gum, cigarettes, playing cards, dominoes and candy.

Membership dues in the Junior Red Cross are a penny and the contributions of a service such as assisting in the Christmas project. Miss Dorothy Mootie is chairman of the organization.

Fire Marshall Tells Penalties For Illegal Storage Of Gasoline

State Fire Marshall Peck has issued a warning against gasoline hoarding in the face of impending rationing. He said many complaints had been received concerning motorists storing gasoline in homes, basements and garages in all types of containers.

"Because of its inflammability and volatility," said Peck, "gasoline is extremely dangerous in or near the home and there

Patriotic Pastor

Though their rector has an automobile and under OPA regulations is entitled to enough gas to make his church calls, Rev. W. E. Airey and members of the congregation of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Houston, Tex., decided that with the rubber situation what it is the patriotic thing to do would be to lay the motor car up for the duration. So they chipped in and bought him a horse and saddle. And hear the rector is above making his parish calls aboard Dobbin.

Another Son Of W. W. Bayard In Army

W. W. Bayard, son of Walton W. Bayard of East Laurel ave., a former Sierra Madrean, joined the Army over the weekend and is now in training. Formerly a resident of Sierra Madre he has been located in Sacramento during recent years and was associated with a large wholesale drug firm there. He follows his brother, George Adams Bayard, into the service. The latter enlisted from Nevada, where he has been living, on Sept. 27, and is in the cavalry branch of the Army.

Sierra Madre Boy Is Staff Sergeant Now In Australia

Russell Lovejoy is making good in the fighting going on in the Australian area. An announcement from Gen. McArthur's headquarters tells of his promotion as a staff sergeant. In a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Helen Lovejoy of Grand View avenue, written before his promotion was announced, the boy told of receiving instructions to train as an Army flyer and was greatly pleased with the assignment. He had been in action in New Guinea but at the time of writing was stationed somewhere in Australia.

We have just begun to fight!

REMEMBER the stirring answer of John Paul Jones to the British, when asked to surrender? "I have not begun to fight!" He went on from there to victory.

There's too much defeatism in America today. We are not losing the war. The truth is we are just starting to fight. Our enemies had years to prepare. We've had months. But we are doing in months what they couldn't even do with years of head start.

This is no time for misguided over-optimism, but when we're inclined to take the pessimistic view, let's remember John Paul Jones.

is the constant peril of an explosion and disastrous fire. "In most cases, the storage of gasoline constitutes a direct violation of the law and also creates a serious hazard to life and property. Local ordinances prohibit the storage of gasoline unless a proper permit is obtained, designating the amount and manner in which it is to be kept on private premises. Persons found guilty of violating these ordinances are subject to fines and jail sentences.

"California is in the combat zone, and this is an added reason why gasoline hoarding in this state is a menace to the public safety, particularly in the event of an enemy air raid, and it might also afford a cloak for sabotage operations by enemy agents.

"Householders should also remember that the illegal storage of gasoline will make null and void insurance policies on premises involved."

For what avail, the plow or

HAVE YOU WRITTEN ?

Did you ever read about what happened on arrival of the mail steamer in the early days of San Francisco?

There was only one such arrival a month, though people were impatient for news from home. The post office was small, so, to get their letters, men stood in line for hours, as they do now for World Series tickets. Some even camped out all night to make sure of getting a favored place, and even as today, places in the line were sometimes sold for $10 and even $20. The affair became a general holiday, with unrestrained expressions of joy by the wilder spirits—and we do mean wild. But remember, these men were far from home and all that it means, living a dangerous, comfortless life in a new, hard land. To hear from home, to know they were still remembered, helped them to found and build our great Western Empire.

Have you yet written to someone in the armed forces? Or to some friend in a land where hardship and anxiety and danger are always at his elbow? "Remember, if you don't write, you're wrong!"

Lost and found columns of Tokio newspapers are crowded these days. Every time an American buys a War Bond,

ARMISTICE DAY

Through a generation of peaceful years, November 11 has been set aside for remembrance of American boys who offered their lives at Chateau-Thierry, St. Mihiel and the Argonne, and for rejoicing in the thought that the blood and tragedy of that World War had taught all nations a lasting lesson—had rid the world of such horror for all time.

We were wrong, as time has proven, in assuming that victory in 1918 had won the boon of perpetual peace. But that error does not reflect upon the maturity or soundness of American civilization. France and England, old and seasoned nations, with warlike histories, lived next door to Hitler as he prepared his nation for a career in crime; and they too relied upon the hope of "peace in our time." The "softness" of the democracies at which Hitler sneered was simply the "softness" of the unarmed, decent, civilized modern citizen as he is viewed by the gangster who plots to break into his home and kill him and rob him.

This new and even greater war, and its final victory day, will never lessen the significance of November Eleventh in American life, nor dim the luster of the heroes of '17-'18. Had they lost that war, a Germany dominant in Europe might then have marched on to enslave all the world, as Hitler strives to en-slave it today.

Perhaps cynicism forced upon them has made Americans wiser now than then. Perhaps, until the slow centuries teach all men that predatory aggressiveness can never prevail, yet other Armistice Days of victory shall need be won to ensure American freedom. If so, America will always win them.

The proof and inspiration lie in the supreme sacrifice of the men who died to give November 11th hallowed permanence, and in the supreme sacrifice of the men who are dying this year to beat back again the forces that would destroy the United States. Together the veterans of both wars will be honored, and together the dead of both wars will lie—buried deep in America's heart.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

SOUNDS like Holy Writ—and maybe it is. Like the Epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Romans—or the Corinthians —or the Hebrews. We mean, any of several of what might be called the Epistles of Abraham the Apostle to the Americans.
Take this—it's from Lincoln's First Inaugural Address: "Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people? Is there any better or equal hope in the world?... If the Almighty Ruler of Nations, with his eternal truth and justice, be on your side of the North, or on yours of the South, that truth and that justice will surely prevail by the judgment of this great tribunal, the American people."

LINCOLN spoke in Universals.
When he said "this Government," or "this Union," the Great Spirit inspiring him prophesied for All Creation. Thus we believe. So when Lincoln said: "I believe this government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free. I do not expect the Union to be dissolved... but I do expect it will cease to be divided. It will become all one thing, or all the other. Either the opponents of slavery will arrest the further spread of it, and place it where the public mind shall rest in the belief that it is in the course of ultimate extinction; or its advocates will push it forward till it shall become a law in all the States, old as well as new, North as well as South." All this, we believe, prophetic of the War today.

IN the consciousness of utterances like these we Americans, of all people, should be able to keep our heads—and our hearts—whatever happens. Let's quote again—from that Second Epistle to the Americans, otherwise, Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address—remembering again that this is no mere tribal pronouncement: "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow, and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations." Ours now, the wide-world mission.

WHAT moved us to make this reference to the American Epistles—which, after all, despite our faults, are forever at work in the creation of our National soul and the Soul of the World—was something flung in our face the other day, over the radio, by Upton Close. Who was born in China, it seems, and has written various books about Asiatic affairs. How authoritative we don't know. But we do know that a friend told us how Professor Close one day told the Writers Club in Hollywood how he'd always been right in all that he wrote, about China, Japan, etc., while the rest of the world was wrong—and that this friend of ours then went straight home and found one of the professor's books in which he said that never, never, would Japan attack the United States. Well, now, this same professor comes along over the radio and snarls out how, because of our blundering and defeats, we Americans have "lost face" with the Japanese.

LAWDY, man, did we want to swear! And, frankly, didn't we! Lost face, have we? Giving us to think how Lincoln, our own Father Abraham, had lost face, in the presence of the polite East and a seditious Washington. Our mind going still further back, to things we'd read about how Francis of Assise lost face when he renounced the riches of his father; we thought of Luther, Savonarola, Galileo, St.
Peter (warming his hands), and the Lord Jesus Himself. They too, had lost face—all of these. Our mind came back to later things —to how the French had lost face at the time of their Revolution, and we at ours, and the Russians at theirs.

LOSING face—a fine old Oriental concept with which Professor Close was indubita-bly familiar. In the Oriental sense, Face—the Japanese had a word for it: Kao; kao, meaning rather, "appearance." In Japan you didn't lose face if you kept up appearances. But what did Lincoln and these others care about keeping up appearances so long as they clung to their sense of what God willed? Hear Lincoln again, long before he was President, when friends were telling him that his stand on the slavery question would wreck his career:
"... Then let me go down linked to the truth—let me die in the advocacy of what is just and right."

AS to losing face, Professor Upton Close, how about the Japanese? Look up this historic document in your files, if you please, when Japan was getting ready to inaugurate a monument to our American Admiral Perry. As translated from the official Japanese: "Japan has not forgotten—nor will she ever forget—that next to her reigning and most beloved Sovereign, Whose High Virtues and Great Wisdom are above all praise, she owes... her present prosperity to the United States..." Say, have we lost face?—or has Japan?

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

In war time, the tremendous load of public responsibility ordinarily carried by the local newspapers is increased a thousand-fold.

Details of the latest draft requirements, rationing orders and dim-out regulations, the new tax levies and the current farm and labor rulings, must be explained and clarified by the public press.
The ponderous administrative gist out of the national seat of government—affecting the lives of 130,000,000 people—depends for success or failure on the press of the nation.

There's a good deal of grumbling about the volume of unimportant and glory-grabbing material sent out from the various government propaganda bureaus, but no editor resents the necessity of the big public welfare job that has been laid in his lap.
He only wants to be very sure that what he gets is the real news!

And so do his readers—though Washington seems more concerned with giving the people only the news the censors think is good for them.

The public wants the bad news as well as the good, wants it in its entirety and as quickly as military safety permits.

That is the public's side of it.
There is another side, vastly more significant because it involves American fundamentals and because it recognizes the current news situation is just one of the symptoms of a real national malady.

Just as government controls are being set more and more, firmly around business of every kind; just as little business is being annihilated far beyond the necessities of war; just as administrative government is absorbing and taking over industry —the press of the nation is being "frozen" in a new, conformative pattern that is not four-square with the freedom assured in the American Bill of Rights.

Incipient in the recent years of peace, a bloodless domestic revolution is in full sway, initiated in Washington and implemented by the war.

Said Dean Carl W. Askerman of Columbia University concerning the ever increasing control over the public press: "The object apparently is not to preserve the freedom of the press, but to squeeze it into a new mold, not during the war—but in perpetuity."

Whether it succeeds in "squeeze-ing into a new mold" other freedoms long considered inalienable, will depend immeasurably on whether it succeeds in doing so with that cornerstone of the Bill of Rights, the freedom of the press.

Readers of newspapers, as well as publishers, need to be concerned with this problem.

Three States, and the District of Columbia, now have speed limits of 35 miles an hour. The trio with the new speedometer "ceiling" are Idaho, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

There's a new query in the questionnaires of national credit rating bureaus, and it's an important one. Here it is: "What plans have you made for the payment of increased income taxes?"

Twenty-two million white persons in the United States have a foreign mother tongue, the Census Bureau revealed last week. Time was when the barriers of language between nations were regarded as insuperable against unity in thought of the world's masses. The class of ideologies of this war, however, has largely destroyed that theory.
Wendell Willkie found that the common language of Turkey, Egypt, Russia and China comprehends democracy and believes in it just about as the Englishman and Frenchman and American comprehend and believe in it. Walls of ideas, of thinking, have separated nations in the past, it may be, far more than walls of language. World democracy may speak with a Babel of tongues—but the tongues bespeak the same faith and goal of freedom and justice for all men.

Bereft of the services of many bright young men, called from tellers' cages by their draft boards, banks are employing increasing numbers of women—and Miss Henrietta J. Fuchs, president of the Association of Bank Women, has broadcast a heartily pep talk to all of them, telling them to make good and show that they can handle money matters as successfully as they are handling factory machines and street cars.

Make way for a revolution. Dehydration is its name. Old as the pyramids of Egypt, yet new as tomorrow, dehydration promises to overleap a critical shipping shortage, transform the eating habits of millions, and establish in California the foundations of a great and expanding industry.
A war-born shipping shortage has been an enormous stimulus to the production of dried foods for shipment to our allies and armed forces abroad. Where it requires 125 thousand tons of shipping space for 27 million pounds of potatoes, that same quantity of potatoes, dehydrated, can be moved in 15 thousand tons of

Margaret Eliason Is With The Army Now

Readers of the Sierra Madre News will miss the chatty, interesting column of Margaret Eliason—"As It Appears to Me," this week, and her pleasing personality in the News office. A member of the paper's staff for several years during which just about everyone in Sierra Madre had come to know her, Mrs. Eliason qualified for a civil service position with the U.S. Army and was ordered to report yesterday to the Tronoy (Army) Hospital, formerly the exclusive El Mira-dor Hotel, at Palm Springs, which is being really enlarged to care for incoming casualties. Her duties in her new position are both important and interesting.

Gas masks which came into use in warfare for the first time when the Germans used poison and mustard gas in World War I, are much improved today over those used then. The Chemical Warfare Branch of the War Department issues these gas masks to every man in the service. We are taking no chances.

The type pictured here is the "can" and "elephant nose" mask and costs about $9.25 each. The headgear is transparent, made of material resembling cellophane and does not cloud with the breath. You can buy two of these gas masks with the purchase of an $18.75 War Bond. We need thousands of them. Don't fail to give at least ten percent of your income every pay day for War Bonds. Buy them at your bank or postoffice, regularly.

Many Entries
For Church
Fower Show

Many organizations as well as individuals of the community are taking an active interest in the coming Congregational Church flower show to be held on Friday, November 6th. Among those entering exhibits this year will be the Esther Forman Garden Club, the Sierra Madre Garden Club, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Sierra Madre grammar school, represented by both teachers and pupils. Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver will be among those assisting in the arrangement. All exhibits are to be in place by 11 o'clock when the judging will take place.

Following the flower show a bazaar will be held in the primary rooms of the church. Afternoon tea will be served from 2 to 5 o'clock and at 6:30 a turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be served in Pritchard Hall.

As an after-dinner entertainment, Miss Frances Robertson has arranged with the Nysaeen Singers of PJC to present a diversified program of music. At the close of this program the singers will adjourn to the home of Miss Robertson for their formal initiation ceremony. Miss Gloria Daugherty, formerly of Sierra Madre, will be inducted as a new member of this group. —Maybelle C. Barker, Chairman of Publicity.

Motorists Urged To Dig For Scrap

A communication from the War Production Board this week addressed to motorists urged them to canvass their garages for vitally needed scrap. Excellent material for the wartime metal salvage, it was pointed out, is provided in such articles as old tire irons, broken springs, old battery cases, exhaust pipes and discarded mufflers, old gears and the like.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

Among those who attended the last drill of Art Udell's forest firemen were several regular firemen as well as some of the auxiliary. They not only made an impression with their handling of the tools, but also demonstrated the proper method of consuming hot cakes. Among Vern Udell's other accomplishments it was learned that he is a fair cook, especially when it comes to pancakes. Joe Swanson was there to supervise the brewing of the coffee. It met all requirements if strength was it.

RUSH ORDER!
COOKED BY GAS!

THE GREATEST industrial nation in the world is staking its destiny on production for war—all of it marked "RUSH!"

Southern California is doing its share with ever-increasing speed and urgency. It is one of the three leading war production areas in the United States.

And natural gas is playing a vital role in this all-out production of planes, ships, tanks, guns and bombs... of steel, magnesium, synthetic rubber... The task of meeting the demand for natural gas—so tremendously expanded by war plants and new housing—is without precedent in history.

Southern California is fortunate in having an abundant reserve supply of natural gas. But the problem this winter is to deliver the tremendous volume of gas needed in wartime... through a network of pipelines which was designed for peacetime. Moreover this network cannot be expanded—for it would take hundreds of tons of steel more vitally needed on other fronts.

Under these wartime conditions certain situations, such as extremes of weather, could create temporary emergencies when this peacetime system might be unequal to the task. If an emergency occurs, you may be asked to use less gas for heating your house for as long as may be necessary—so that important war production can go on without interruption.

From now on, the No. 1 task of natural gas—is to speed war production!
